Fuel Surcharge Notification – May 2022

Dear Valued Customer

The ongoing invasion of Ukraine by Russia continues to destabilize markets and increase pressure on oil prices around the world. Due to this, the fuel price continues to rise despite the Chancellors spring statement announcement of 23rd March reducing the fuel levy duty rate from 57.95ppl to 52.95ppl.

Diesel fuel cost as a result remains high and therefore the fuel surcharge rate that HFI apply will increase from the current 15.25% for April 2022.

Effective 1st May 2022 the new standard fuel surcharge rate for all services at a rate of 16.00% will be applied.

HFI Distribution continue to monitor fuel prices and where appropriate reduce and/or increase accordingly with regular notifications to our customers.

HFI Distribution Limited continue its commitment in providing the best quality service at the most competitive pricing to all our valued customers.

I thank you for your continued support of HFI Distribution and should you have any questions or queries in relation to this announcement please do not hesitate to contact me on the below contact details.

Yours Faithfully

Mr Andrew Bristow
